SCHOOLDAY SURPRISES

Eighth graders Pat Murphy and Steve Mitchell are caught by the Spartan camera (Above Left); Kim Keane models a suit; Dean Eckert in a Halloween hat.

September and May are the warm months at Fairfield, but January wasn't! City schools closed for an unprecedented three days in a row because of heavy snows and blizzard and frostbite warnings. When we came back on January 13th, the temperature was a record 13 degrees below zero! Hats and mittens (Above) and car trouble (Right) were common at Fairfield this winter.

MEDIA CENTER IN ACTION

FAIRFIELD — LIKE A FAMILY

Being at Fairfield during the 1976-77 school year was many things to us, but the best description for most of us was that it was like being in a family. Working together and helping one another was emphasized and became part of the routine.

We set a new record, selling over 16,000 dollars worth of candy in the candy sale; student council sponsored two families in the Christmas Bureau drive; Spartans gave their annual Halloween party for the Crippled Children's Center. Our work, play, and these special projects brought us together.

Fairfield staff in action (Clockwise From Top Left): newsman Tom Campbell, a guest speaker, with Jim Marley and Mrs. Stein; Mr. Crum in the faculty room; Mrs. Getsie concentrates on a student speech; Mr. Bruns wants more coffee--Mrs. Klus says "Too bad!" Both faculty and students had their moments of work and play this year.

EIGHTH GRADE AT WORK

Writing was important in 8th grade this year. Phil Pranger worked hard.

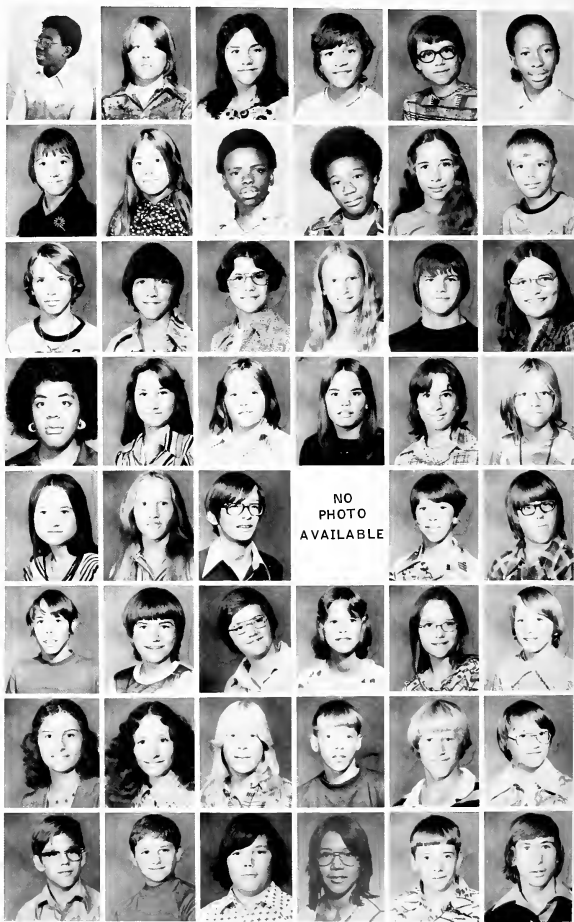

Elaine Stout, in a costume of colonial times, plays the role of teacher.

ART AND HOME ECONOMICS

Eighth grader Pat Murphy works on a project (Above) in Mr. Ade's class; DeeDee Jackson (At Left) begins a sewing project for Mrs. Brandt in a unit on clothing.

Mrs. Brandt (Above) demonstrates the use of makeup for Teresa Smethers.

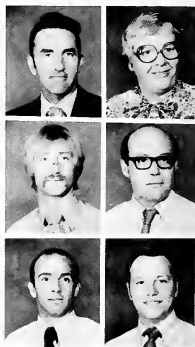

Mrs. Brandt and Mrs. Oberley were the home economics teachers at Fairfield this year. Highlights of their year included having visitors to see their ninth grade independent study capsule program, getting a student teacher in March, and collecting cereal proof of purchase seals to buy new equipment. Students studied housing, time management, foods, clothing, personal improvement, and child care; their goals were to be better prepared for life, more independent, and more knowledgeable.

Seventh grade class studying foods included (Clockwise From Top Left): Miller, Bunch, Torrie, Zehr; Erck and Hettinger; Nagy and Tyrell; Natalie Nunez. Using the kitchen units to prepare and serve foods were some of the more interesting activities in "home ec." this year.

SPARTAN SCIENTISTS

Mr. Bruns (Above) thinks over a tough problem with one of his science classes. Teachers in the science department were Mr. Beck, Miss Brosier, Mr. Bruns, Mr. Crum, Mr. Foellinger, and Mr. Rosinski.

Many of the activities involved safety equipment; Lisa puts on goggles.

Michael Stewart and Tammy Marshall (Left) work together on a report they present to Miss Brosier's class. As in every class, a certain amount of plain old-fashioned studying was required (Below)--some of us did it, and others didn't.

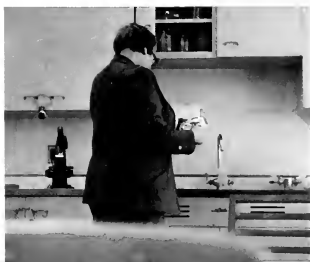

Proper use of the microscope was studied (Left).

Mr. Crum (Above) stayed after school often to help students with their lessons, to run experiments, and to sponsor science clubs. Club members Andy and Sam (Above Right) mix a mysterious potion.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Teachers (Above) are: Mr. Booker, Mrs. Egley, Mr. Erickson, Miss Lindley, Mr. Ornelas, and Mrs. Kimmel. Mr. Purcell also taught math.

Mr. Purcell's class clowns for the Spartan camera. Left to right are Mr. Purcell, Shirley Philpot, Tamara Glass, Shirley Nelson, Barbara Stewart, Mike Fedock, Russ Arnett, and Jeff Anderson.

SPARTAN LANGUAGE ARTS

Fairfield students in English had several important goals in 1976-77. Mrs. Stein, department head, summarized these as "developing the basic skills, appreciation, and understanding necessary to become an effective citizen." Teachers worked hard to encourage students to read and write effectively. And of course, the basic knowledge needed for high school subjects were presented. Glenda Williams (Left) works on a composition in Mr. Tannas' class; Sarah Boylan (Lower Center) makes a presentation to Mrs. Getsie's room.

Fairfield English teachers (Left) are: Mrs. Bartkiewicz, Mr. Ehinger, Mrs. Getsie, Miss Haefling, Mrs. Klus, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Stein, and Mr. Tannas. Foreign language teachers Mrs. Robles and Mrs. Minnie are not pictured.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Teachers in this department were Mrs. Kammeyer, Mrs. Murphy, and Mr. Tindall (Above). Faced with large classes and Fairfield's small field, they still provided a wide variety of sports for each student. Team sports such as volleyball, soccer and football were played, but time was also given to gymnastics, folk dancing, and special routines.

SOCIAL STUDIES CLASSES

Teachers: Miss Butler, Mr. Donlan, Mr. Fireoved, and Mrs. Williams.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Teachers Mrs. Minnie and Mrs. Robles (Above) taught French and Spanish this year. Pat Dennis and Steve LaMar study a lesson in French class (Left).

Foreign language studies required lots of bookwork, but students also did other projects to better understand other cultures. A Spanish meal was served (Right), and students and teachers celebrated the Christmas season with the breaking of the traditional pinata (Below). Tammy eats (Middle); Cheryl studies French (Right).

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLASSES

Teachers in this department were (Left To Right) Mr. Bruner and Mr. Purcell. It was Mr. Purcell's first year here.

Varsity choir members: Stone, Caroline, Williams, Carter, Limbaugh, Closson, Miller, Simon, Flanery, Buzzard, Lopez, Hite, Black.

Rainey, Stone, Hallgren, Engle, Woods, Creek, Roberts, Garver, Gauthier, Moran, Roos, Nicholas, Lippitt, Colvin, Wright, Tiller, Bromley.

SWING CHOIR, 7TH GRADE

Mr. Anderson, Fairfield's vocal music teacher, is shown above and at left with his seventh grade choir members. Mr. Anderson's main goals this year were to get students to work together, and to prepare for the spring concert; the swing choir contest was one of the high points in the year for the music department.

Sports activities were an important part of the Fairfield routine this year. Girls teams made some big improvements and continued their successful records. Our main problems were a lack of space and getting the gym for practices of all the different boys and girls teams. The Spartan crowd gave our athletes good support (Left); pep sessions added some fun (Above Left); pep band, cheerblock, and other spectators (Above) helped, too.
